GRAND DUKE TO WED MONTENEGRIN PRINCESS

LONDON, Aug. 19.—The Grand Duke Michael, brother of the Czar, has been betrothed to the Princess of Montenegro.

Princess Xenia who is to wed the heir presumptive of the Russian throne, is celebrated as one of the most beautiful of the daughters of the ruler of Montenegro.

At one time she was announced as on the point of marrying the late King Alexander, of Serbia. All negotiations between the courts of Cetinje and Belgrade had been concluded in a satisfactory manner. But when King Alexander proceeded to the Montenegrin capital in order to claim his bride, Princess Xenia was so horrified by his appearance, and especially by his manners, that she insisted on breaking off the match on the spot, declining to have anything whatsoever to do with him.

War almost ensued between Serbia and Montenegro as the consequence of this affront to King Alexander. Diplomatic relations between the two courts were interrupted for a time, and the king, as soon as ever he returned to Belgrade, proceeded to turn out of office those of his cabinet ministers who had negotiated the match and whom he regarded as responsible for his being jilted.

Princess Xenia is to be dowered, like all her other sisters, by the czar with a fortune of $1,000,000. She was educated at the court of Russia under the personal direction of the widowed czarina, and belongs like her future husband, to the Greek Orthodox church. She is the favorite sister of the young queen of Italy, and two of her other sisters are married to princes of the reigning house of Russia.
